TOUR PURPOSE

A trip to Germany would offer glider pilots some of the best soaring conditions around. Visiting Southern Germany, in particular, would give not only great thermal soaring but also the chance to experience ridge soaring close to the Alps.

Pilots could attempt much longer and more varied cross country flights than they would be able to during the same period in the United Kingdom. This means that it will be easier for many of our members to progress much more quickly and achieve their goals to gain higher qualifications.

Visiting other airfields helps to broaden general flying knowledge and experience - necessary to develop safer and more capable pilots.
