62. Any Full Member present may:
1. Propose or second a motion,
  2. Propose or second an amendment to a current motion,
  3. Table a report, or
  4. Propose a procedural motion.
63. Only one motion or amendment may be debated at any one time.
64. Motions and amendments require one proposer and one seconder. Reports are tabled by the person submitting the report, and procedural motions may be brought during discussion of any motion, amendment or report.
65. No member may speak more than once on the same motion, amendment or report, unless they are the proposer, have been deferred to by the proposer, or at the Chair's discretion.
66. A tabled motion or amendment may only be withdrawn with the consent of the meeting.
67. Upon accepting any motion, the Chair shall invite discussion to the motion or amended motion. At the termination of such discussion the proposer of the motion or amendment has the right of reply immediately after which the question shall be put, save that no new subject matter shall be introduced in such replies.
68. In the event of there being no discussion once a motion, amendment or report has been proposed and seconded, the Chair shall:
1. Formally ask if there is any opposition or questions, and
  2. Warn the meeting that if there is no opposition or questions the motion, amendment or report shall be declared as carried. In the event of there being still no opposition or questions, the Chair shall declare the same.

Amendments

69. At any time after a motion has been proposed and seconded and before the proposer starts summing up, a member may propose an amendment to that motion. Amendments must be seconded and require acceptance as valid amendments by the Chair.
70. Every amendment shall be relevant to the motion.
71. Once an amendment is before the meeting it must be dealt with before returning to discussion of the motion, as follows:

1. If the amendment is carried discussion now continues on the amended motion,
  2. If the amendment is defeated, discussion reverts to the original motion.
72. If an amendment is carried, the motion as amended displaces the original motion and itself becomes the substantive motion whereupon any further amendment relating to any portion of the substantive motion may be moved. After the votes on succeeding amendments have been taken, the surviving proposition shall be put to the vote as the main question and if carried shall then become a resolution of the meeting.
73. On an amendment being carried, the proposer of the original substantive motion still has the right of reply to debate except that he may waive this right in favour of the proposer of the amendment.

Reports

74. A member presenting a report shall move that 'The report be accepted', or that 'The report be received'. A discussion shall be held, and if the report is tabled to 'be accepted' a vote shall be taken on approval of the report. Reports tabled for the meeting's specific approval must be tabled to 'be accepted'.
75. The meeting may not amend a report, but may invite the person presenting it to do so. Approved reports do not form a resolution of the meeting in themselves. An item of the report shall be approved separately as a motion to the meeting to form such a resolution.
76. A report by an officer or representative which he or she is required to table to Council or General Meeting by the Constitution, Regulations, prior Union policy or their resolution shall be either approved or rejected by that meeting. A meeting may only reject a report (or lack thereof) submitted under a policy or resolution if it was in force before and at the start of the meeting.
77. If a General Meeting is called to hold a Sabbatical Officer or Felix Editor to account, that person must submit a report to it, which may be accepted or rejected by the meeting.
78. If such a report is not submitted to the Council or General Meeting, or it is submitted late, a good reason may be demanded for the nil or late report to not be rejected.
79. If a report is not discussed or voted upon at a Council meeting for any reason except deciding specifically not to discuss it, it may be added to the agenda of the subsequent meeting at the discretion of the Council Chair.

Deleted: The meeting may not amend a report, but may invite the person presenting it to do so. A report tabled to be accepted shall be either approved or referred back for consideration. Approved reports do not form a resolution of the meeting in themselves. An item of the report shall be approved separately as a motion to the meeting to form such a resolution.

Rejected reports

80. If a report is rejected after a vote, the person responsible for it will be required to re-present it with such amendments as that person shall choose to make at the next meeting of the Council, so long as the following conditions are satisfied:
1. The chair informs the person that he or she must re-present the report and the consequences of it again being rejected.
  2. The next meeting must be between one and seven weeks later.
  3. The 1st August must not intervene before the next meeting.
  4. An intervening Emergency meeting or meeting within one week does not count as the "next meeting", unless, in the case of an Emergency meeting, it is called specifically to hear the re-presented report, and
  5. The report was not by a member of the Court and in that capacity.
81. If, in respect of 80.1, the person was not in attendance when the report was rejected, or the requirement to re-present the report was not mentioned, the chair or a nominee must use his or her best endeavours to inform the person before the start of the next meeting.
82. A requirement to re-present a report does not affect any separate requirement to make any other report to the Council.
83. If the conditions in 80.1 – 80.5 are not satisfied, or the next meeting of the Council approves or does not vote upon the re-presented report, the requirement to do so lapses.
84. The re-presented report may be discussed and voted upon in the same manner as a normal report. If it is rejected a motion of censure in relation to the author of the report will be immediately added to the agenda directly after the rejected report.

85. If the person whose re-presented report is rejected has previously been censured in the same academic year in the post for which he or she was the author of the report, that censure also being in existence at the beginning of the meeting in which the re-presented report was rejected the motion shall instead be of no confidence.

Procedural motions

86. In addition to original motions, amendments and reports, the procedural motions below may be proposed.

87. Procedural motions have differing conditions as follows:

1. Motions with asterisks (*) have no discussion before being accepted or refused.
2. The chair rules on all motions, except motion d (challenge to the Chair) and those requiring the meeting's approval (+, ++).
3. Motions with a percentage sign (%) are decided by the Chair alone and cannot be overturned by motion 'd'.
4. Motions with two pluses (++) require a two-thirds majority.
5. Motions with a hash (#) are irreversible once accepted.
6. Motion i (&) requires only one-third of those members present and voting (that is, it requires two-thirds of the meeting to vote a roll-call vote down).
7. Motions with a tilde '~' may not be used at general meetings.

88. The motions are as follows, in decreasing order of precedence:

- a. Point of order, * %
- b. Point of information, *

- k. To reconsider something already voted on, * ~
- l. To consider something out of its scheduled order, * ~
- m. To move to a vote, #
- n. To adjourn the meeting, + #

89. On motion d, the proposer shall then state his reasons for the challenge, the Chair shall state the reasons behind his decision, and the meeting shall then vote by show of hands without further discussion.

90. Only points of order, information and privilege may interrupt another speaker. No procedural motions or amendments may be proposed on these points.

91. A vote on a procedural motion must not itself be held by roll-call or secret ballot.

92. Any final vote or disputed amendment to a motion under the Disciplinary Procedure in Regulation 5, closure of a Court inquiry or rescinding of a disqualification from elections or office must be held by secret ballot

93. Points of order (motion a) shall draw the Chair's attention to an error in procedure or lack of decorum in debate. They may not be raised during a vote except when directly connected with the vote.

94. Points of information (motion b) may be raised to the speaker holding the floor, in order to offer or request simple information. They are accepted at the absolute discretion of the speaker alone. No points of information may be raised on a summing up speech.

95. Points of privilege (motion c) concern the rights and privileges of the meeting or a member, which may concern reputation, the staff-student protocol, or other matter requiring the urgent attention of the meeting.

96. An adjournment of the meeting (motion n) closes the meeting, to meet again at an arranged time. A recess (motion g) permits a break in the meeting (of such length as the meeting decides), even during discussion of a motion, amendment or report.

Voting

97. Members must think before voting.

Regulation Seven - Union Court

A. Jurisdiction

1. The Court has jurisdiction over and in the following areas within the Union:
  1. Interpretations,
  2. Disputes in individual elections or referenda,
  3. Union publications, in a role equivalent to that of the Press Complaints Commission,
  4. Inquiries, and
  5. Other such judicial, investigative or disciplinary functions as may be allocated by any policy or rule.
2. The Court shall not manage or exercise policy-making powers over any other part of the Union. The Court shall direct its own procedure, subject only to the Constitution and Regulations.
3. The Executive Committee has jurisdiction to act in a role equivalent to that of the Press Complaints Commission in response to any complaint made by the Court or any member of it in a personal capacity. When doing so it may, in addition to its normal jurisdiction, make an order under paragraphs 50.10 and 50.11 and 57.4.

B. Membership

4. The Court shall consist of members appointed in the following manner:
  1. One member of each Faculty Union elected by the Council, each person being a Full Member of the Union.
  2. Three Full Members of the Union nominated by the Executive Committee and approved by the Council.
  3. Three Life Members of the Union nominated by the Executive Committee and approved by the Council.
  4. One member of the academic, academic-related or senior administrative staff of Imperial College, of a rank equivalent to that of Senior Lecturer or above, nominated by the Council and approved by the Rector.
5. Those who are not members of any Faculty Union will be treated for the purposes of this election as members of the Faculty Union which otherwise has the smallest number of Full Members.
6. The term of office for the Full Members of the Union runs for one year from the 1st August following election. The term of office for Life Members runs for three years from the 1st August following election, each such member appointed in consecutive years. A term of office may be renewed.
7. Renewal of terms for those originally nominated by the Executive Committee shall be subject to the approval of the Council, but not the re-nomination of the Executive Committee. A Full Member whose status as a registered student ceases must be nominated and approved as one of the Life Members to continue membership of the Court.
8. Life Members, or those Full Members who may be appointed as Life Members upon expiry of their student registration at the College, may not attend the Council during the discussion or vote upon approval of their nomination or renewal of membership, but may submit written comments to the Council. The Council may suspend this rule.
9. Upon the first approval of nominations of Life Members, they shall be divided by lot at the Council, one serving a one year term, the second a two year term and the third a three year term. If fewer than three are initially appointed then the first appointed shall serve three years, the second two years and the third one year. If two are appointed at the same meeting their terms will be determined by lot.

10. Life Members appointed to the Court upon its inauguration shall serve for the remainder of the academic year in addition to their term.
11. Any vacancy is filled by the same process as the annual nominations and elections. If the vacancy arises by the time of or after the Council meets to elect or approve nominations for the next year, the Council may choose to extend the term of service of a newly elected or approved member, so that he or she starts immediately. If several people within one category are newly approved by the Council for currently vacant posts, the Council may choose to decide by lot from those who wish to do so and are not ineligible by virtue of currently holding another disqualifying post, whose term of service will start immediately.
12. If a Life Member position falls vacant during the three year term, the replacement member's term shall expire at the same time as the original member's.
13. If the Council has not elected or approved three or more members of the Court (except the staff member of Imperial College) by the 1st November in an academic year then the remaining members of the Court may, in committee, appoint further members from within the eligible candidates for each vacant post. Standing orders may provide for restrictions in the functions of temporary members. The election or approval of new members by the Council rescinds a temporary appointment by the Court.
14. Each member is of equal status to every other member. No member is the representative of any group within the Union or the College.

C. Administration

15. The Court shall appoint a Chair and Deputy Chair from amongst its members. If the Chair is a Life Member of the Union, the Deputy Chair must be a Full Member of the Union, and vice-versa. No staff member of the College may become Chair or Deputy Chair.
16. The Court shall adopt, with the approval of the Council, a code of conduct which its members shall adhere to. The code of conduct shall set out the ethical principles and rules upon and within which its members must operate. The code shall include the circumstances in which members are disqualified from hearing a case. The code may impose restrictions on the rights of members of the Court within the rest of the Union.
17. The Court may adopt standing orders within which it shall operate.
18. Standing orders governing the following matters also require the approval of the Council:
  1. Appeals within the Court or to the College,
  2. Delegating the Court's authority (which must in any event be to a body under its supervision), except to the Mediation Board,
  3. Regulating the directions for searches, the compulsion of evidence and production of documents or items,
  4. Imposing any time limit upon applications or appeals, except a time guillotine within a hearing,
  5. Imposing further restrictions upon when cases may be requested,
  6. Prescribing when members of the Court may request a hearing in a case in a personal capacity.
19. The Court may meet 'in committee' to deal with its own administrative business, and must meet as such if appointing its Chair and Deputy Chair, adopting or amending the code of conduct or standing orders. An amendment to the code of conduct or standing orders requires the approval of a two-thirds majority of those present and voting. If conducting a hearing it shall meet 'in session'.
20. Regulations 2, 4 and 5 shall apply to the Court in respect of its internal procedure with such modifications as may be made in its standing orders. No such standing order shall alter the Council's jurisdiction in Part B of this Regulation or the jurisdiction of the Council, Council Chair or Court Chair under Regulation 5. An internal motion by the Court to censure or dismiss a person from membership of it (but not the Chair, Deputy Chair or internal official merely from post) must nevertheless comply with Regulations 4 and 5, be held in committee, and be chaired by the Council Chair or a nominee who is not a member of the Court.
21. No person may proxy a vote under any circumstances within the Court when in committee or in session.

D. Commencement of a case

22. The authority of the Court under regulation 7.1 may only be exercised when in session.
23. A hearing in a case may be requested by the following people or bodies in the following circumstances, though standing orders may impose restrictions:
  1. An interpretation, review or declaration may be requested by any member of the Union or constituent part of the Union.
  2. A request for an adjudication in a role equivalent to that of the Press Complaints Commission may be made by any person or organisation mentioned or referred to in a Union publication, or by the Mediation Board.
  3. An appeal in an election or referendum dispute may be made by any candidate or elector in it.
  4. An inquiry may be requested by the Council, Executive Committee, 50 Full Members of the Union or any constituent part of the Union.
  5. A review of any proposed constitutional amendment, regulation, policy or act may be requested by any member of the Union or constituent part of the Union.
  6. A case in another jurisdiction created by any policy or rule shall be summoned in whatever way that policy or rule determines, or by standing orders.
24. An interpretation, review or declaration may also be made by the Court if acting in another of its jurisdictions. If the Court determines that another jurisdiction (except inquiries) is appropriate it may exercise it instead of or in addition to the one for which it was summoned.
25. No member of the Court may participate in a request for any kind of case, except under specific circumstances set out in standing orders.
26. The Court shall make any decision relating to the commencement of a case in committee, unless standing orders determine otherwise.

E. Appointment of panels

27. When the Court is in session, it shall be composed of a panel drawn from the membership of the Court, appointed according to standing orders.
28. A panel, unless it is one person sitting alone, must contain at least one Full Member of the Union.
29. The appointment of a panel, once made, cannot be rescinded by any person or body outside the panel.
30. Multiple applications to the court to hear a matter may be consolidated into one case. The Court may direct in a case that an issue should be severed and dealt with in a separate hearing or case.

F. Directions

31. The Court, in session, composed of the appointed panel, may make directions for the management of a case, subject to the standing orders.
32. Directions may be made administratively by the Court, but may be reviewed in the hearing itself.
33. Such directions may govern the agenda, time limits, advance notice, adjournments of or bringing forward hearings, submissions or evidence received, agreement of facts, narrowing any contested issue, excluding irrelevant issues, consolidation or severance of cases, or any other matter. A direction may specify the consequences of a breach.
34. The Court may make specified compulsory directions:
  1. Any person holding an elected or appointed post in the Union including staff may be required by direction to attend a Court hearing and answer questions. No person shall be required to incriminate himself or herself.
  2. The Court may require by direction the production of any document or item, or copies thereof, created or held by the Union or any person

- holding elected or appointed office including staff within it in their capacity as such.
3. The Court may make a direction for the searching of any premises administered by the Union under the Memorandum of Understanding. Such a direction may only apply to the offices of permanent staff with the consent of the President or Union General Manager. A search direction may be made without notice to the person or constituent part of the Union to which it applies.
  35. The Court may only make one of the specified compulsory directions if there is no other way in which the information can be obtained, and their contents are likely to affect a final or interim determination.
  36. The specified compulsory directions shall be made subject to such rules and guidance as set out in standing orders, and may only be made after such standing orders are established.
  37. A person subject to a specified compulsory direction may request a hearing and make comments or submissions about whether the direction should remain or be amended. The President may attend any such hearing involving staff.
  38. The fact that material is confidential or sensitive does not exclude it from the Court's jurisdiction, unless it is wholly a staff matter as defined in Part K.
  39. A breach of a specified compulsory direction may result in the Court, after a hearing, making orders under Part J. A breach of any type of direction may result in issues or evidence being excluded, further directions made, or a hearing being discontinued.
  40. The Court may direct that a hearing or part of a hearing is in closed session only if:
    1. Staff matters are being discussed,
    2. A member of the Union staff is giving evidence in his capacity as a member of staff, unless he or she consents to being heard in public,
    3. A decision or act under the Disciplinary Policy is being reviewed, and a defendant student or body does not wish it to be in public,
    4. The Court is of the view that the quality of a person's evidence would be improved by it being given in private, due to its sensitivity or their vulnerability,
    5. It relates to a without notice application for a direction to search premises or other purpose, or
    6. In cases of grave disorder.

G. Hearings

41. The Court, in session, shall run one or more hearings in a case and come to a determination. The Court may dispense with a hearing only if dealing with a proposed constitutional amendment, regulation, policy or act, or under other circumstances set out in standing orders.
42. A hearing must be in public unless the Court directs it or part of it to be held in closed session. Reasonable steps must be taken to inform any person or body who may be directly affected by any potential order of the hearing and its purpose.
43. If an issue before the Court becomes the subject of legal action, referral to the Imperial College Council, Visitor, Office of the Independent Adjudicator for Higher Education, or another relevant external authority, the Court may adjourn the hearing until after its resolution or discontinue the hearing. Legal action may be treated as commencing upon a criminal charge or summons, or civil claim form being issued.
44. The Court may choose to discontinue a case without coming to a determination if an issue becomes pointless or academic. The Council may require an inquiry to be discontinued.

H. Determinations and reports

45. A determination shall be made at the end of the case, unless it was discontinued.
46. The deliberations of the panel in coming to a determination shall be in closed session and remain permanently confidential. No person may seek to influence

- any member of a panel with respect to a determination after the deliberations begin.
47. No person or body may instruct any member of a panel how to rule on a determination.
48. The determination shall be public and available to any Full Member of the Union, and any other person whom it affects. In sensitive cases, the names of individuals or bodies may be replaced with a pseudonym and irrelevant details omitted. In a case where a person or constituent part of the Union is subject to any form of penalty, they may demand that their name is shown, unless in doing so the privacy or rights of another would be unduly affected.
49. An interim determination may be made by the Court in any matter if it is in the interests of justice to do so. An interim determination, which may include interim orders, may be made during a case before it is concluded (though it may have the effect of concluding it). A case which continues afterwards shall, upon conclusion, have another final determination.
50. A declaration becomes a binding precedent upon the Court, from which it can only depart in the interests of justice. The opinions of those in the majority, and the circumstances in which orders were made, becomes a persuasive precedent which may form a basis for future determinations.

I. Orders

51. In a determination, the Court may make no order, or make one or more of the following orders:
1. A declaration of what the Constitution, its Regulations and any policy or rule means, and its consequences.
  2. Quash a policy, rule, decision, act or omission, or any part thereof, found to be unconstitutional or unlawful.
  3. Suspend a policy, rule, decision, act or omission, or any part thereof, found to be unconstitutional or unlawful, until the next meeting of the committee that approved it.
  4. Remit a decision back to a person or part of the Union with its opinion or ruling.
  5. Require a committee which improperly avoided or dismissed a motion to reconsider it, and may set aside any time limit if fair to do so.
  6. Summon an emergency meeting of any committee except the Council.
  7. Mandate an officer, post-holder or committee to act in accordance with the Constitution, its Regulations and any policy or rule, or prohibit them from breaching it.
  8. Replace the decision of a returning officer, elections or referendum committee with any other that they would have been authorised to make, or to dismiss an appeal.
  9. Authorise a more senior budget holder to spend out of a subsidiary budget.

  11. That a publication against which a complaint is upheld must print or publish the result and reasoning behind it with due prominence.
  12. Any order which the Press Complaints Commission is entitled to make in respect of a member publication, except for awards of money.
  13. Any other order which a Regulation, policy or rule permits, or
  14. Any order which is necessary or expedient to give effect to another order which the Court is entitled to make.
52. Any order is discretionary. The fact that a breach of a rule has been found does not require the court to make further orders. In addition to or instead of any order, the Court may make recommendations to any person or body.
53. The Court may apply a time limit to any order, or make it subject to conditions.
54. The Court may not make any order:
1. Relating to any matter outside the jurisdiction of the Union under the Constitution and Memorandum of Understanding.
  2. Requiring, in the opinion of the Court, the Union or any person to act unlawfully, including any contractual breach or tort.

1. in respect of the Council,
  2. in respect of a person's choice of vote,
  3. upon a member of the Union staff; any such order being made upon the President instead, or
  4. in respect of an act which a person with responsibility for Health & Safety in the Union reasonably declares would impose legal liability on them or the Union, and whose declaration is not countermanded by a more senior authority.
56. The Council, or a policy-making body within its jurisdiction, may by policy authorise the Court to make an emergency order or direction in specified circumstances, and to the extent that the policy prescribes.

J. Compliance

57. Any person may request that the Court reconvenes to examine whether a determination or direction was or is being complied with. The Court may also do so of its own motion.
58. The Court may make a further determination, which may include no order, or in any case where it decides that an previous order was not complied with, the following:
1. Amend or rescind any current order,
  2. Impose any new order,
  3. Impose a mandatory or prohibiting order upon a more senior person or body in the Union,
  4. Propose a motion of censure or no confidence to the Council or any other committee entitled to pass it, or
  5. Make a penal order.
59. Any order made under the above sub-paragraphs 58.1-58.3 must have been one which the Court would have originally had the jurisdiction to impose, unless made under a policy or rule which provides for further types of orders upon a breach.
60. If a proposal for a censure or no confidence is made, it shall be treated for all purposes as having been validly proposed to any committee entitled to hear it. A proposer may or may not be appointed. Any rules of the committee to whom it is proposed regarding advance notice of such motions must be complied with. The Court may then make further orders requiring the appropriate committee to hear it at the next available meeting. No emergency meeting to hear such a motion may be called after the end of the Summer Term.
61. A penal order may be imposed upon any constituent part of the Union apart from the Council, Executive Committee, commercial services or individual members or staff. It may include suspension, freezing of budget (subject to the President or Deputy President (Finance & Services) authorising expenditure for the performance of a legal obligation) and a prohibition on use of room bookings or other Union facilities.
62. A penal order made in relation to a breach of a specified compulsory direction may apply to any constituent part of the Union allowable above, for which an individual breaching a direction is the chair, treasurer, secretary or other senior post-holder if the breach is relevant to that constituent part of the Union.
63. A penal order may be reduced or rescinded by the Council.

K. Staff matters

- 64. The Court's jurisdiction shall not extend to matters which are wholly staff matters as defined by the Staff Student Protocol.
- 65. The Court may hear evidence and require evidence, documentation and items from members of staff in closed session which may involve staff matters, but only to the extent that it assists in determining any disputed fact or rule which is not a staff matter.
- 66. The Court shall interpret the meaning of the Protocol. Any such declaration shall only be made after the President or Union General Manager has had the opportunity to make submissions or comments. The Court Chair or panel chair shall be responsible for clarifying and enforcing this protocol when the Court is sitting or in administrative matters relating to the Court.
- 67. Any staff matters remain confidential, and any later determination shall omit or anonymize any such reference.
