Introduction

Congratulations on your election result and welcome to the Academic Representation Network of Imperial College Union!

You are now a team of hundreds of student representatives, who speak on behalf of thousands of your student peers - representing them to Departmental and College staff, to Imperial College Union, and to the wider world.

We are grateful to each and every one of you for volunteering and dedicating your time to improving the academic standards and social community within your department and across Imperial. Without your collective work in assuring and enhancing the student experience, Imperial would not be able to offer an education worthy of the its standing as a world-class institution.

Everyone at Imperial, including the President and Provost, recognises the importance of the Academic Representation Network in improving and maintaining the academic standing of Imperial College London. In return for your efforts, we provide you with training to make sure you are as effective and knowledgeable about your role as possible, as well as support you throughout the year. Being an Academic Representative is a fantastic opportunity for personal and professional development, as well as allowing you to truly make an impact on the student experience.

This training manual is the primary resource to prepare you for the year ahead. It is complemented by in-person training sessions in the first weeks of the academic term, online resources, and the continued availability of staff and fellow student volunteers for advice and guidance.

We hope you have an amazing time this year, and make the most of all the opportunities that Imperial offers you. If you ever have a question or need some advice, feel free to drop by and see me on the second floor of Beit, or send me an email.

Alejandro Luy

Deputy President (Education), 2018/19

The Academic Representation Network

The Academic Representation
Network is a body of over 500 student representatives (Reps), across all Undergraduate and Postgraduate programmes and research groups that brings together student volunteers and departmental staff in order to improve teaching, research and supervision at Imperial.

I Imperial's quality is monitored both internally and externally. It is regularly audited by Government agencies, external examiners, funding bodies and its own internal assurance processes - but these top-down quality checks can be as infrequent as once every five years. With the introduction of new courses, changes in technology and teaching methods, and the ever increasing expectations of students, courses must continuously adapt and improve.

The Academic Rep Network is one of the ways College continuously improves the quality of its teaching, by offering access to a decentralised, distributed network of trained student volunteers "on the ground" - the Academic Representatives. The Academic Rep Network allows for quick, student-led feedback on every lecture slide, every assignment, every handout, and every lab demonstration - which number in the thousands across College.

COLLEGE'S MISSION

"Imperial College embodies and delivers world class scholarship, education and research in science, engineering, medicine and business..."

By collecting your thoughts and comments, and then raising these issues with relevant staff, Academic Reps are responsible for identifying and addressing issues affecting your education. They also work to proactively improve both your learning experience, and that of future students, by coming up with new ideas and sharing best practices from different parts of College.

Roles, Responsibilities and Boundaries

Your Responsibilities

- Make sure the students you represent know who you are and how they can contact you
- Proactively seek out and identify students' views on matters relating to their academic experience
- Represent the students on within your remit and take their feedback and ideas to your departments and faculties
- ▲ Attend Student-Staff committee meetings (or send apologies) and other informal meetings with academic staff and provide student feedback, opinion, ideas and solutions at these meetings
- Update the students you represent on outcomes of feedback raised and any responses you have received from staff
- ▲ Attend Academic Rep Induction
- Communicate with the Deputy President (Education) and the Unions Education and Welfare team
- Refer students with individual issues to appropriate sources of help when necessary
- Work with fellow Academic and Wellbeing Reps, elected officers and staff on ideas and campaigns that will improve the student experience

YOUR ROLE

The Academic Reps have two main responsibilities: the first is to collect feedback from students, regarding topics within their remit, and to alert university staff of issues affecting students' academic experience within their cohort. Equally as important, the network of reps will work across departments and faculties to communicate best practice to each other.

Your Boundaries

- Student disciplinary issues: It is not an Academic Rep's role to represent students on disciplinary matters. Students who have concerns in this area should be referred to Imperial College Union's Advice Centre
- Allegations of harassment or bullying: Students who allege that they have been bullied or harassed should be referred to the Advice Centre
- Complaints: Students who wish to make a formal complaint should be referred to the complaints policy and may wish to seek independent advice from the Advice Centre
- Personal problems: If a student has personal problems you should refer them to the Advice Centre as they are trained to give specialist advice and have expertise in this area

Contact details are available online via the Rep A to Z on the Union website.

Decision Tree

How to be an Academic Representative

You are responsible for making sure the student voice is heard within your department.

The basic principles of being an effective Academic Representative are:

RECEIVE

The first step of being an effective Rep is to be well-known by the students who rely on you. Once you are elected, make yourself known by using emails, lecture shout outs, posters in communal spaces, and make clear to students that you are always available by email and are approachable in person.

Quick Wins:

- When elected, ask a lecturer for two. minutes at the start or end of a lecture to introduce yourself
- ▲ Ask a Departmental Administrator to have an explanation of your role added to the next email being sent out
- ✓ Put your role as your email signature and use Social Media to interact and communicate with the students you represent
- ▲ Let your constituency know what you are planning to say before each staffstudent committee, so they can give you feedback beforehand

RESEARCH

REPRESENT

It is your responsibility to find out as much as you can about any issue raised to you. How many students does it affect? Has there been a recent change that caused it? What possible solutions are there? Find out as much as you can to prepare you for raising the issue in person with a member of staff.

You represent your entire constituency - whether that's a year group, a department, or an entire faculty - and not just your personal opinion. Take care to verify that you are accurately conveying the views of the entire group, and not your own take on the situation

Quick Wins:

- ✓ Find out if there is existing data already (NSS, past surveys, SOLE etc.)
- ✓ Use survey apps and mailing lists to talk to students you represent about these issues
- ▲ The Deputy President (Education) and Union staff are available for advice and support, and have experience of College and departmental policies. Contact them at any time - their contact details are at the end of this manual
- ✓ Talk to other Reps in your department and faculty - are they finding the similar issues? How have they researched more about the issue at Imperial?

Quick Wins:

- Only raise something as high as necessary to get it fixed/implemented
- ▲ Emphasise your research and consultation when in discussions with departmental staff to present a persuasive and coherent case
- Take care not to give the impression you are only representing yourself avoid phrases like "I think..." or "In my opinion..." unless you want to make it clear that it's just your opinion.

RECORD

REPORT

It is important that the work of our Academic Representatives is recorded and shared across the whole network. Record all of your goals and your ongoing tasks so that you can keep track of what you are doing and feed it up through the Academic Rep Network.

If you've made a change, shout about it. Tell your peers through email or in person, and report back to your staff-student committee. This is called "closing the feedback loop", and it's an important aspect of your role. Doing this step effectively will encourage students to give feedback next time!

Quick Wins:

- ▲ Keep your Departmental Representative and Constituent Union Academic Affairs Officer up to speed with major issues
- ✓ Schedule in time to meet with your Rep teams and Union staff to talk about the issues that have been raised to you by your constituency
- ▲ Keep your role-related notes together, whether that's on paper or in electronic form. This will aid the handover process to your successor later on in the year

Quick Wins:

- ✓ Let the students who you have consulted know the outcome of any work you have done
- ✓ Send a regular update email/Social Media post to your constituency keep it short, focus on the changes you have made, and remind the students that you are available
- ▲ Let the Union's Representation Coordinator know of any major successes - we will highlight big wins in our all-Rep emails, and the most active Reps may receive a Union Award at the end of the year
