Imperial College Union
Council Report
By Henry Whittaker, Deputy President (Clubs & Societies)

NCC

Two new clubs, the Economics society and the Design Collective have successfully passed through the new NCC process the New Club Incubator. They both ran zero cost events which were well attended and received. There is still one club in the New Club Incubator Hillsong Connect.

When the New Club Incubator was approved as a process in CSB the question of funding for club events was raised. I think this is something which I will look into as the next set of clubs pass through the system. I can see the potential use for funding available for events however one of the goals of the NCI is to encourage and show clubs that they can run a successful event without spending much money. If any funding is made available to groups in the NCI should not undermine these ideas.

Storage Space

A new storage room is being made available for club storage. This room is on level 1 on the west side of the building. The room has now been cleared and application forms have been received from clubs requesting space. These will be allocated as we can as some more shelving is still needed.

Waste Disposal

There was a waste amnesty which was heavily used, with the media group getting the chance to empty the studio which cleared up a fair bit of space.

WEEE is being dealt with per club as this needs to be collected by college for disposal.

BUCS

A meeting was held with the Club Captains however a decision was not reached. To give some clarity to the issues we are writing up the minutes and effect of each option on clubs to enable each group to make a decision within their committee and report back.

There is a meeting with BUCS on the 2nd of November Darush and myself will be attending. Bucs have requested a written decision by this deadline. But we do not have to decide until the next AGM.

Clubs and Societies Board representative to Executive Committee

At the last meeting of Clubs and Societies Board, Jake Woods, the ACC Chair was elected by the Board to be the Clubs and Societies Board representative to the Executive Committee. Council is asked to ratify this decision.

RESOLUTION REQUIRED:

Council to ratify Jake Woods as the Clubs and Societies Board member on Executive Committee
